

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Jabe Cov
Press Contact
info@hustlersguild.org

November 29, 2017

ROC NATION A&R MEETS PRIVATELY WITH MAYA ANGELOU STUDENTS

Washington, D.C. – Seniors from The Hustlers Guild's partner Maya Angelou Public Charter School were invited to attend Roc Nation's A&R Rel Carter's Culture Tour and have an exclusive meet and greet.

"The students got to learn first hand through a panel discussion on how hip hop has a powerful influence in innovation and culture." After learning about the platform that Mr. Carter is actively using for local artist and inspiring entertainment industry producers, I knew this would be great for some of the students at Maya Angelou," said Executive Director Yasmin Salina.

The Rel Carter Culture Tour highlights fashion, art, and media through a four city swing across the nation. Participants were able to perform as well as receive feedback from the industry exec.

"It was great for the students to see firsthand how hip hop and Science Technology Engineering Art and Math (STEAM) careers are intersectional. The Hustlers Guild was extremely excited about this partnership with Rel Carter and the Rel Carter Culture Tour Team," Salina said.

To learn more about The Hustlers Guild and to partner with the organization, visit www.hustlersguild.org.

###

About The Hustlers Guild

The Hustlers Guild is a 501 (c) (3) non-profit organization. Our mission is to develop and empower youth ages 10-19 years old, as well as college freshmen of underrepresented communities to drive innovation that will impact the future.